

How To Measure the Size of Your Pool Table

The playing surface area is a measure between the cushion noses on the short ends and long ends of the pool table. Measuring these areas will give you the size of the playing area of the table.

Measure from one side of the cushion nose on the short side (i.e., the width of the table) to the cushion nose on the other side of the table. You want to measure at the nose of the cushion where the ball touches it, not under the cushion.
