The Legacy Story

Legacy Billiards is a dynamic division of Exact Commerce USA, Inc., a furniture manufacturing company that has been around for 20 years. Exact's customer base includes most of the major brand names in the US furniture market, and we have enjoyed a steady streak of annual growth since the day the company formed. Our factory is currently over 1,000,000 square feet, employs over 1200 people, and houses state-of-the-art machinery.

Besides building furniture and components for the residential furniture industry, Exact has supplied many of the largest billiard manufacturers with almost every component that comprises a pool table. Before we formed Legacy Billiards, we were THE largest supplier of billiard components to the billiard manufacturing community.

Legacy evolved when Exact saw the need to focus more intently on the fast-growing home game room segment of the furniture market. Legacy Billiards brings the best of furniture manufacturing (finishing, hand carving, design, material, and construction) into the home game room industry. We knew with our experience in the billiard industry constructing every component in a table (except the cushion rubber and pockets) that we could build a pool table better than most manufacturers. With our experience selling to higher end furniture customers, we had the expertise to put a fine furniture grade finish on our gaming products, the quality of which had only been achieved by a select few. By using only top grade hardwoods, we now provide a product that lives up to its name: Legacy.

SOLID WOOD

Just like a fine musical instrument, Legacy uses only select hardwoods in every table we manufacture. No engineered woods such as MDF or laminates. No compromises. Only solid hardwood to ensure lasting strength and beauty.

PERFECT CORNER

Squaring the corners on a billiard table cabinet has always been a key component of quality table construction. Getting it wrong can mean an uneven surface, which affects the quality of game play. With our Perfect Corner, you'll always get it right. By design, the only way it fits is to create perfectly squared corners.

Billiard Tables

Historical records about the exact birthplace of the game of billiards remain uncertain. The word "billiard" derives from the French word "Bille," meaning ball, referring to a game involving ball and stick; and "art," meaning the art of playing the game. Although the French have given new meaning and life to the game by refining and popularizing it, they cannot claim to have invented it. Billiards was played as an outdoor lawn game, resembling golf or croquet, in northern Europe during the 15th century.

The first documented evidence of billiards was found in the 1470 inventory of King Louis XI of France, in the form of a lawn billiard game. Billiards evolved to an indoor game and became fashionable among aristocrats and commoners in France by the mid-1500s. In the following century, the table version similar to today's games first appeared. However, slate, cushions and modern cloth were not used until the 1800s.

7 things to consider when selecting the "right" pool table:

Price – If you've ever heard, "You get what you pay for," believe it. A masterfully constructed pool table is an investment. Quality made tables with features that will last a lifetime will start at $2000 and go up from there.

Size – There is a table for every pool player. 7ft (Bar size), 8ft (Regulation or Standard size), and 9ft (Tournament size), are the most common. Most people select the proper size to fit the room where the table will be placed. (Remember, 60" of cue space is needed around the entire table to comfortably play a game.)

Brand – Make sure the brand of table you select has easily accessible information about the product. Preferably, you should choose a brand that is represented by a local dealer. This way, you can view selection before your purchase, and receive professional service after the sale.

Materials – This is where table quality differs. Solid hardwood is always the best choice. Companies that use inferior construction methods such as using hardwoods for rails or legs only, or metal bracing or brackets do so to cut production costs. Solid Hardwood material is, and always will be considered the finest quality product available in pool table manufacturing.

Performance – Slate, cushions, and cloth largely determine how a table plays. One inch slate is standard and is used on professional and residential tables. Cushions should be made with gum rubber material and adhered directly to the rail. The type of cloth used will determine the speed of the rolling ball. Cloth is largely made of wool and will need to be replaced over time.

Warranty – A proper warranty should ensure that an owner's investment will last a lifetime. (Pockets and cloth are typically not covered under these warranties). Warranties will vary from brand to brand. Make sure to read the fine print. (Legacy is unique to cover labor as well as replacement costs.)

Installation – The greatest table in the world will offer sub-par performance if not installed correctly. A proper installation should be done by a trained billiard mechanic. The precision and expertise to assemble and level a table is not something just anyone can do. Make sure your installer has experience working on the brand of product you are purchasing.

Value in every table

ONLY A LEGACY BILLIARDS TABLE GIVES YOU...

1 The Perfect Corner

The assurance of a square cabinet and flush panels are essential in providing perfect play for every billiard table. Legacy's Perfect Corner is the only patented design that guarantees table assembly will be "perfect" every time. This design has also proven to provide the strongest cabinet corner support of any billiard brand in the industry.

2 Solid Hardwood

Better quality means better play. Every table Legacy manufactures is constructed from solid hardwood. No MDF, plywood, scrap wood or metal plates. We use only real hardwood for the cabinet, legs, top rails, blinds, and crossbeam slate supports. The result is a pool table that is unmatched in the market.

3 Hand Carved Legs

We start with a single block of quality solid hardwood. We then meticulously hand carve the table legs that support the work of functional art that describes our pool tables. Legacy currently employs over 180 master carvers applying their talents to our product line.

4 Fortress Power Lock™

All Legacy rails are secured to the slate using our exclusive Fortress Power Lock. This feature utilizes an oversized T-Nut fastener secured into the rail by a solid hardwood core to tightly hold the extreme torque of the rails bolts onto the table. This design has been tested to 2,000 lbs. of torque and is 80% stronger than threaded inserts or other fasteners used by other table manufacturers.

5 Hand Inlaid Sites

All site locations on every Legacy pool table are precision cut using state-of-the-art CNC machines to ensure perfect consistency. Our sites are hand-picked and inlaid, then sanded to ensure a smooth finish.

6 Exact Shot™ Cushions

Our K-66 profile natural gum rubber cushions feature a relief groove designed to provide perfect alignment to the top rail. The result is superior ball speed and accuracy. This groove also adds 30% more surface area for the rubber to bond to the top rail. A properly constructed table with attention to details like this can improve your game play. All of our exact shot cushions carry a lifetime warranty.

7 Old World Joinery Techniques

We believe in the construction techniques that have stood the test of time. Our experience in the furniture industry carries over to our pool tables to provide you with a family heirloom that will last for generations.

8 Durable Leather Pockets

All of our leather pockets are finished with a quality dye to coordinate with our billiard tables. These dyes, as opposed to staining, are steeped into the leather or durahyde, allowing the material to maintain its desired color and endure scratches from normal play for the life of the table. With this process, you can be assured your table's inherent beauty will keep its luster for years to come.

9 Quality Slate

Legacy Billiards uses 3-piece one-inch backed slate on all of our billiard tables. Each piece of slate is diamond-honed, precision cut and ground to within five thousandths of an inch to ensure a level surface. There are no shortcuts in attention to detail and commitment to quality.

10 The Finishing Touch

Legacy's one million square foot factory incorporates varieties of custom finishes and options for all their manufactured billiard and furniture products. Because all our products are finished at the same time, we are able to provide greater finish consistency to our product than any of our competitors. The result is a table of unsurpassed quality, beauty, and endurance: a Legacy table.

Solid Wood and The Perfect Corner:

Better quality means better play. Every table Legacy manufactures is made from solid hardwood. No MDF (Medium Density Fiberboard), plywood, scrapwood or metal plates. We use only solid hardwood for the cabinet, legs, top rails, blinds, and cross-beam slate supports. The result is a pool table that is unmatched in the industry.

The patented "Perfect Corner" (exclusive to Legacy) is the strongest and easiest corner to assemble anywhere. The design of the corner ensures all cabinet panels to be flush and square, without the need for adjustment. We do not use a metal bracket in the corner of our cabinets. Metal brackets allow the table to flex and move unpredictably, which defeats the solid, immovable purpose of a pool table. They are used only to cut production costs and save the manufacturer money. All of our tapered cabinet billiard tables are constructed using the solid hardwood Perfect Corner.

Believe it or not, playing shuffleboard on tables can be traced as far back as England: 1532. First "shoveboard", then "shovelboard", this game consisted of coins and a polished table top. Shoving these coins across the tabletop was a favorite past-time for some of the members of the royal family. It did not take long for the "commoners" to adapt this game for their own use, and became so popular that people actually stopped going to work, causing it to be banned!

One of the main reasons as to why shuffleboard tables are becoming popular is because of the limited amount of space it occupies and the low level of maintenance required to keep this game operational. As you can see, we have a wide selection of shuffleboard styles that would complement your home decor, or a cozy bar or tavern. It is a game that appeals to a wide range of people of various backgrounds and interests, and is guaranteed to be a hit. While Legacy has a reputation of building quality pool tables, wait until you try one of our shuffleboards!

Game Sets

The playing cards that are used to play Poker are called "Court Cards." Arriving from Europe, they get their name from the "face" cards that feature people you would find in a Royal Court (King, Queen, etc). Poker is often associated with the saloons of the old West. Most likely, the history of the game in America started in New Orleans, where it was played by European immigrants.

The History of the Home Bar.

Bars may have been around since Roman times, but private drinking establishments became popular during the 1920's prohibition era. For those wanting a drink, locating a "speakeasy" or "blind pig" in which to avoid the authorities was no small task. These Al Capone-era bars usually featured some pretty slick mechanisms to open secret passage ways and for dumping the bar stock to avoid being busted by the feds.

Home Bar Furniture became popular in the 1950's with cocktail sipping homeowners enjoying the company of friends within the privacy of their own home. Inspired by Hollywood movies and a carefree, Rat-Pack lifestyle indulged by famous entertainers like Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, the home bar became an iconic fixture of a well-appointed mid-century home.

The 70's and 80's saw a rise in public nightclubs and disco music with fancy dance floors and mirrored disco ball lighting. The 90's saw dance clubs and the appearance of heavy metal head banging and rave scenes. During these times, the home bar gathered dust as

"clubbing" became the social scene of choice.

Today, things have changed a bit, and while Frank and Dean are long gone, their music is still alive and well on CD. Smoking is for the most part a relic of the past with most people opting for a healthier lifestyle. Today, the home bar is making a comeback as more people are entertaining in the home again with a variety of get-togethers from cocktail soirees, milkshake mixers, and even formal dinner parties.

Bar Stools

Comfortable seating never looked so good

The kitchen is the heart of the home that is a favorite focal point of interior designers. It is the area of the home where everyone gathers, shares laughter, good food, and memories. A popular choice in home design is adding a bar to the kitchen or right next to it, independent of the dining table, with bar stools included. Bar stools themselves are a wonderful piece of furniture. They utilize space economically, they are ideal for both sitting and standing situations, and when made right, they are incredibly comfortable. The bar stool has traditionally been used for accommodating large amounts of people in restricted spaces, yet there has been a tendency toward including the bar stool into the home furniture line up, and the results
